

Social Event – 17 June 2026

Some of you might be thinking, "Organ music is really boring." If that's the case, we hope this social event will completely change your mind!

The evening starts at one of Odense's oldest buildings, St. Knud's Cathedral (see separate description of the church, organ, and organist; the program also includes a small map). We'll kick things off with a concert featuring iconic film music played on the cathedral's magnificent main organ.

Our organist is one of the very best in Denmark, and if she can't convince you that organ music can be exciting, joyful, and surprisingly powerful, then we admit no one probably can! During the concert, you'll experience the incredible range of sounds the organ can produce and hopefully understand why it's often called "the queen of instruments."

The cathedral itself has a fascinating history (see the separate program). If you make your way there a little early, you'll have the chance to explore at least part of the church before the concert. The cathedral opens at 18:00, and the concert begins at 18:30.

Before leaving the conference venue, you'll receive a packed sandwich and a small bottle of water. As we're on a very tight schedule, everyone will get the same sandwich, which is vegan. Feel free to enjoy it on the walk to the cathedral—it's only about 650 m away.

After the concert, the evening continues with a reception at 19:00 in the City Hall, located right next to the cathedral (see map in separate program). There will be a generous selection of reception food, along with soft drinks, beer, and red and white wine. As the reception is not intended to be a full dinner, we recommend enjoying the sandwich provided at the conference venue while making your way to the cathedral.

We hope you'll join us for a memorable evening of music, history, good company, and great conversation!
